Confluence Sidebar

Prompt

Information panel for space-level actions and navigation.

Definition

The Confluence space sidebar is an information panel that facilitates navigation and configuration of the current space. It is located on the far left side of the screen, directly under the Confluence Header.

By default, the sidebar includes persistent links to:

- A space's page, blog, and calendar areas
- Space shortcuts
- Pages in the space as they appear in the page hierarchy
- The Confluence Space Tools Menu

The contents of the sidebar can be configured by space administrators.

The sidebar can be minimized or expanded by clicking the chevrons in the bottom right corner of the panel.

Please see Atlassian's

documentation on the space sidebar for more information.
